1--Value added by manufacture, beginning 1982, is computed using inventory data reported at cost or market prior to any adjustment to LIFO cost. This uniform method is a change from prior years in which respondents were permitted to value their inventories using any generally accepted accounting method. Consequently, current data for value added by manufacture are not comparable to data prior to 1982.

* The Kentucky State Data Center released two series of population forecasts based on the 1990 Census of Population and Housing. The Baseline Series uses average annual net migration rates from 1980 to 1990 to project annual growth. In the Moderate Growth Series, negative net migration rates from the Baseline Series are reduced so that statewide net migration is approximately zero. In this scenario, counties that have lost population through migration will continue to do so, but at a lower rate. Positive net migration rates are the same in both series.

* The Kentucky State Data Center released two series of population forecasts based on the 1990 Census of Population and Housing. The Baseline Series used average annual net migration rates from 1980 to 1990 to project annual growth. In the Moderate Growth Series, negative net migration rates from the Baseline Series are reduced so that statewide net migration is approximately zero. In this scenario, counties that have lost population through migration will continue to do so but at a lower rate. Positive net migration rates are the same in both series.

DEFINITIONS

Titles and terms in this publication are defined as below, unless indicated otherwise. For more detailed definitions and the methodology used to prepare the data, the original sources for the data should be consulted. Users should exercise caution in comparing data for recent years with those of earlier years, as definitions are periodically revised by data generating agencies.

AREA DEVELOPMENT DISTRICTS: Official groupings of Kentucky counties into 15 multi-county regions for local, state, and federal program planning and administration. Boundaries of the districts were set by state legislation (KRS 147A.050) in 1972. Districts were formed from contiguous counties on the basis of economic ties, terrain, transportation networks, ease of administration, and other factors.

BUSINESS ESTABLISHMENTS: As defined by the U.S. Department of Commerce's County Business Patterns series, an establishment is a single physical location at which business is conducted or where services or industrial operations are performed. It is not necessarily identical with a company or enterprise, which may consist of one establishment or more.

CITIES: Municipalities chartered or incorporated under the provisions of Kentucky laws. Kentucky cities are divided into six classes by the state constitution, on the basis of population. Each class of city has minimum levels of government services set by state statutes. Since classifications are assigned to individual cities by state statutes, some cities may be assigned to the wrong class until they are reclassified by legislative action.

Class of City	Population
First	100,000 or more
Second	20,000 to 99,999
Third	8,000 to 19,999
Fourth	3,000 to 7,999
Fifth	1,000 to 2,999
Sixth	Less than 1,000

CIVILIAN LABOR FORCE: The sum of both employed and unemployed persons 16 years of age and older, excluding armed forces personnel and persons in penal and mental institutions, sanitariums, and homes for the aged, infirmed and needy. Persons "not in the labor force" are those not classified as employed or unemployed and include persons retired, those engaged in their own housework, those not working while attending school, those unable to work because of long-term illness, those discouraged from seeking work because of personal or job market factors, and those who are voluntarily idle.

CONSUMER PRICE INDEX: A measure of change, over time, in the prices paid at retail by U.S. consumers for a fixed market basket of goods and services. The index is a number expressed in relation to a base period or reference point that has been assigned a value of 100. Prior to January 1987, the CPI base was 1967. The new base is the average prices for 1982-84. This update does not change inflation, as inflation is the percentage increase in the index from one period to another.

Beginning in 1978, separate indexes were published for (1) all urban consumers, and for (2) urban wage earners and clerical workers. The Consumer Price Index for all urban consumers is based on the buying patterns of about 80% of the U.S. population and is the more widely used of the two indexes for calculating "cost of living" increases.

A consumer price index comparable to the U.S. consumer price index is not available for Kentucky or its communities.

COUNTY: The basic level of local government for all areas in Kentucky. The powers of the Commonwealth's 120 counties also encompass the territories of cities located within their boundaries.

COUNTY SEAT: The community that serves as the center for the county government (Fiscal Court), and contains county offices and records. The county seat is the location of the county court house, but in some instances county offices are located at more than one community within the county.

DEFINITIONS

COVERED EMPLOYMENT: The numbers of persons employed in industries covered by state unemployment insurance. Generally, all workers are included except self-employed individuals, unpaid family members, some student workers, agricultural workers, domestic workers, railroad workers, employees of certain religious organizations, certain government employees, and some others.

EMPLOYMENT, BY PLACE OF RESIDENCE: The numbers of employed persons whose usual place of residence is within the area designated, whether they work within the area or commute to jobs outside of the area. This type of job information is usually gathered by surveys at the workers' homes, as in the U.S. Census of Population.

EMPLOYMENT, BY PLACE OF WORK: The numbers of persons working at places within the area designated, whether they reside within the area or commute to their jobs from residences outside of the area. This type of job information is usually tabulated from reports made by individual employers, as with quarterly unemployment insurance reports to state government.

FAMILY: A group of two or more persons living in the same household who are related by birth, marriage, or adoption. Excluded are single-person households and households composed of groups of unrelated individuals.

GROUP QUARTERS: Living quarters for persons not living in households. Examples of group quarters include military barracks, correctional institutions, college dormitories, fraternity and sorority houses, hospitals, nursing and convalescent homes, orphanages, religious missions, convents and monasteries, and communes. Areas with high proportions of their total populations living in group quarters often have atypical age distributions, rates of births, marriages, and deaths, and other social and economic characteristics.

HOUSEHOLD: All persons who occupy an individual housing unit. Occupants of a household may be one person living alone, a single family, two or more families, or any group of related or unrelated individuals.

HOUSING UNIT: A house, apartment, group of rooms, or single room where occupants live and eat separately from other persons in the building and have direct access from outside the building or from a common hall.

INDUSTRIES: Classifications of private and public establishments by type of economic activity (establishments are economic units at single physical locations where business is conducted, or where services or industrial operations are performed). Except where indicated, the groupings of industries in this publication are based upon the classifications published by the U.S. Office of Management and Budget in the "1987 Standard Industrial Classification Manual."

LAND AREA: The geographic size of land areas within the political boundaries of Kentucky and its counties, as published by the U.S. Bureau of the Census. Bodies of water and major streams are excluded.

MEAN: The calculated average of a series of numbers, obtained by dividing the sum of all observations in the series by the number of observations.

MEDIAN: The value which divides a series of numbers "arranged in order of magnitude", so that one-half of all observations lie below it and one-half lie above it.

METROPOLITAN STATISTICAL AREA (MSA): Uniformly defined metropolitan areas, used for a wide variety of statistical programs. An MSA contains an urban nucleus of at least 50,000 population, along with adjacent counties which have a high degree of economic and social ties, for a total metropolitan population of a least 100,000 (75,000 in New England). The U.S. Office of Management and Budget designates MSA's and their boundaries, based on published official standards.

MSA's with populations of one million or more may contain officially designated primary metropolitan statistical areas (PMSA'S). A PMSA consists of a large urban county or cluster of counties that demonstrate locally recognized, very strong internal economic and social links. A central city may or may not be present. An MSA containing two or more PMSA's is designated as a consolidated metropolitan statistical area (CMSA).

DEFINITIONS

MIGRATION: The permanent change of a person's place of residence from one area to another.

Net migration, as reported by the U.S. Bureau of the Census and cooperating state population centers, is the residual of migration both into and out of an area during a specified period. It is derived by subtracting the natural increase (births, minus deaths) during the period from the change in the total population numbers during the same period.

MONEY INCOME: As defined by the U.S. Bureau of the Census, total money income includes wages and salaries, net farm and nonfarm self-employment, interest dividends, net rental income, Social Security, and all other regularly received income such as pensions, unemployment compensation and alimony. Receipts not counted include various "lump sum" payments such as capital gains or inheritances. Also excluded are non-cash benefits such as food stamps, health benefits, and housing subside. The total represents the amount of income received before deduction for personal income taxes, Social Security, bond purchases, union dues, medicare deductions, etc.

Money income as collected by the Current Population Survey is reported for households, various household types and unrelated individuals. Only the amount received by all family members 15 years old and over is counted, excluding income received by household members not related to the householder.

NONMETROPOLITAN AREAS: Areas outside the boundaries of officially designated metropolitan statistical areas (defined above).

PER CAPITA INCOME: The mean income computed for every man, woman, and child in a particular group. It is derived by dividing the total income of a particular group by the total population.

PERSONAL INCOME: As defined by the U.S. Bureau of Economic Analysis, income received by "individuals" in an area. It includes income received from all sources, such as wages and salaries, other labor income (employer contributions to private pension funds, jury and witness fees, etc.), proprietor's income, rental income, dividend and interest earnings of individuals, transfer payments (primarily from government) not for services rendered, minus personal contributions for social insurance.

Personal income tabulations by industry group sources show income received by "individuals" from enterprises within industry groups and should not be construed as a measure of output for the industries.

Most components of personal income data are gathered on a place of work basis from employers or other sources. Final tabulations of total personal income, however, are adjusted to show the total personal income and personal income per capita for residents of state and local areas.

See definition of Money Income, above.

POVERTY LEVEL: The minimum level of money income adequate for families of different sizes, in keeping with American consumption patterns. These levels are determined by comparing individual or family income with annual income thresholds. The poverty thresholds are adjusted annually by the U.S. government on the basis of an index originated at the U.S. Social Security Administration in 1964 and revised by federal interagency committees in 1969 and 1980. The poverty rate is the percent of individuals or families with incomes below the poverty income thresholds.

RESIDENCE: The place where a person lives and sleeps most of the time. This place is not necessarily the same as the person's legal residence or voting residence.

RURAL AREAS: Those areas outside of the urban areas (see definition of urban population, below).

STATE GROSS PRODUCT (SGP): The market value of the goods and services produced by labor and property located in a state. For each industry, state gross product is composed of four components: (1) compensation of employment; (2) proprietor's income with inventory valuation adjustment and capital consumption allowances; (3) indirect business tax and nontax liability; and (4) other, mainly capital related charges. For the farming, mining, construction, and manufacturing industries, the U.S. Bureau of Economic Analysis (BEA) estimates total SGP and three of its four components-compensation, proprietors' income, and indirect business tax and nontax liability-and then subtracts the three components to get capital charges. For the other industries, BEA estimates each of the four components of SGP and sums the components for total SGP.

DEFINITIONS

UNEMPLOYMENT: A measure of those persons who are out of work and actively seeking a job. Unemployment is measured both in numbers of persons and as a percentage of the labor force.

Unemployment figures do not include those persons who are classified as discouraged workers (out of work and no longer seeking work) and who are no longer counted as being in the labor force.

URBAN POPULATION: All persons living in places of 2,500 or more inhabitants, but excluding those in rural portions of extended cities and all persons living in any territory within urbanized areas.

Before 1950, the urban population was defined as all persons living in incorporated places of 2,500 or more inhabitants and in areas (usually minor civil divisions) classified as urban under special rules relating to population size and density.

URBANIZED AREAS: Central cities and surrounding closely settled areas (urban fringe). The 1990 U.S. Census of Population defined an urbanized area to include an incorporated area and its adjacent densely settled area that together have a population of at least 50,000. Densely settled areas have a population density of at least 1,000 per square mile. Other criteria were used to tie other parts of the urban area into one unit. The urban fringe is a contiguous territory with at least 1,000 persons per square mile.

URBAN COUNTY: A Kentucky county (except a county containing a city of the first class) may merge city and county governments into an urban county government encompassing all areas within the county. The Lexington-Fayette Urban County was formed in 1974.

VALUE ADDED BY MANUFACTURE: A measure of the increased value of a product resulting from the manufacturing process. It is calculated by subtracting the cost of materials, supplies, energy, and labor from the value of shipments, and then adding the value added by any merchandising and net changes in inventories.

Beginning in 1982, value added by manufacture is computed using data reported at cost or market value prior to any adjustment to LIFO cost. This uniform method is a change from prior years in which respondents were permitted to value their inventories using any generally accepted accounting method. Consequently, current data for value added by manufacture are not comparable to data prior to 1982.

The use of value added by manufacture figures avoids the duplication of the value of shipments figures which result from the use of the output of some manufacturers as raw materials by other manufacturers. Value added is considered an important measure of the relative economic importance of manufacturing industries.

VALUE OF SHIPMENTS: The net selling values of manufactured goods, F.O.B. plant, after discounts and allowances, and excluding freight charges and excise taxes. For products that are customarily delivered by the manufacturing establishments (bakery goods, dairy products, soft drinks, etc.) the value of shipments is based on the delivered price.
